

ROOSEVELT FOLLOWERS BOLT

HOLD SEPARATE MEETING AFTER ADJOURNMENT OF REGULAR CONVENTION.

Indianapolis, Mar. 27.—The Indiana Republican convention adopted a resolution instructing the state's four delegates-at-large to the national convention to vote for the renomination of President Taft. National Committee man Harry S. New, former Vice President Charles W. Fairbanks, James E. Watson and Joseph D. Oliver were elected delegates. These were the Taft slate. The Taft faction had a majority of 105 in the convention over the supporters of Colonel Roosevelt.

The Roosevelt delegates held a separate convention in the rear of the hall upon the adjournment of the regular convention and elected as delegates-at-large the Roosevelt slate, former Senator Albert J. Beveridge, Fred Landis, Edwin M. Lee and Charles H. Campbell.

President Draws First Blood.

That the Taft men were in control was evidenced when they drew first blood in the vote of 772 to 687 by which the minority report of the credentials committee presented by the Roosevelt faction was laid on the table.

Announcement of the Taft faction's control of a margin of 105 was received by the opposition delegates with shouts of protest, but they did not demand a roll call when the majority report of the committee on organization, which gave the convention to the Taft adherents, was declared adopted on an aye and no vote.

The majority report of the resolutions committee endorsing President Taft for renomination and declaring opposition to the initiative, referendum, recall, recall of judicial decisions and third term was next adopted.

Upon adjournment, Alva O. Reser, of Lafayette, standing on a chair, shouted a call for a convention of Roosevelt delegates, and they elected their big four.

Minority Refuses to Report.

Instruction of the four delegates-at-large to vote for President Taft was coupled with an attack on political policies approved by Colonel Roosevelt in the majority report of the committee on resolutions. The minority refused to make public in advance its report, instructing the delegates to vote for the nomination of Colonel Roosevelt.

"The initiative, referendum and recall," said the majority report, "would weaken and destroy the strength and perpetuity of our system of representative government which the executive, legislative and judicial departments discharging their respective duties and forming a harmonious and stable government of laws, administered by wise, just and experienced men."

President Taft's administration was praised and it was maintained he is entitled to renomination.

STEPHENSON WINS FIRST TEST

Escapes Being Ousted From United States Senate by Bare Majority of Two Votes.

Washington, Mar. 27.—Isaac Stephenson, senator from Wisconsin who paid $107,000 to control the primary that sent him to Washington, escaped being ousted from the senate only by a bare majority of two votes. The vote stood 29 to 27. After a futile wrangle over an effort to fix an hour for the vote today and nobody being ready to proceed with the discussion, the presiding officer put the pending question which was on the Jones substitute for the committee.

Senator Sutherland claimed last night that on the final vote the majority for Stephenson would be at least four, probably six, while Senator Lea, who is managing the opposition, said the number voting for Stephenson today probably would be less than yesterday. If that is correct the Wisconsin senator may yet be unseated.

Plucks Babies From Air.

New York, Mar. 27.—In an apartment house fire in East New York, a policeman caught two babies thrown from a second story window by a frantic mother.

The "Child's Welfare" movement has challenged the attention of thoughtful people everywhere. Mothers are natural supporters and will find in baby's honey and tar compound a most valuable aid. A Fool and His Money.

"What did father say?"
"He told me 'No!'"
"But why?"
"Because I hadn't any money saved."
"But did you not tell him that you had five thousand dollars in the bank?"
"Yes, but he borrowed that before he answered me."—Houston Post.

ADVISES REDUCTION
OF COTTON DUTIESTAFT, IN MESSAGE TO SOLONS, TRANSMITS REPORT OF TARIFF BOARD.

Washington, Mar. 27.—A recommendation for downward revision of cotton duties and a demand for further funds for the tariff board, were contained in a message sent to congress by President Taft, transmitting the board's report on cotton.

The report itself was a detailed discussion of conditions in the cotton industry here and abroad. The conclusions reached by the board were:

"On account of the different mill methods in this country, the domestic labor cost of weaving on a large variety of plain fabrics of wide consumption is reduced below the foreign cost. Except in the case of a few special fabrics, and in the case of various manufactured articles, some of which were produced in this country to a very slight extent, the American industry supplies practically the whole consumption. Mill prices are in many cases as low in this country as in the world's markets. Where higher, as in the case of the finer classes of products, they are rarely higher by anything like the whole amount of the duty. The effect of the present tariff then in most cases is not so much to add the duty to the manufacturers' price as to secure him the American market, and in the case of most articles of widest consumption, to prevent the competition of the foreign manufacturer either in normal or abnormal times. On account of the more costly methods of distribution in this country from producer to consumer, the latter pays a decidedly higher retail price than the European consumer, even in the case of fabrics on which the cost of production and the mill prices are as low here as there."

GRAND DUCHESS MARIE

By the death of William, reigning grand duke of Luxembourg, the other day, Princess Marie of Luxembourg became the reigning grand duchess. The new ruler in Europe will not be 18 until June 16 next, and until then will be under the regency of her mother, who is a daughter of Dom Miguel, duke of Braganza. The grand duchess of Luxembourg, which included in the dissolved Germanic confederation from 1815 to 1866, was declared neutral territory in 1867 by the Treaty of London, has an area of 998 square miles. Historically, it belongs to the Nassau-Orange family, and in 1814 it was under the king of the Netherlands. Its language is even now a kind of Dutch. The new grand duchess inherits an enormous fortune from her father.

Three young men attacked him, he said, and took from him $25.
